“When you connect with a client and everyone is excited about the project, it makes the entire design process an amazing experience from start to finish.”

Bright and charismatic with a strong work ethic, Courtney is a designer at our Petoskey location. Courtney provides design services and coordinates the building process for efficiency and flow.

Raised in a building family, Courtney found her love for interior design and home construction at a young age. Inspired by the beautiful homes she saw through her family's work, she developed a penchant for creating interesting spaces – building forts outdoors and rearranging her bedroom over and over with new color schemes and furniture layouts.

Courtney received her Bachelor of Applied Arts in Interior Design with a minor in Construction Technology from Central Michigan University. After college, she began her career as a kitchen and bath designer at Preston Feather in her hometown of Petoskey, where she's gained a wealth of knowledge, experience, and is currently attaining her NKBA design certification.

Courtney sees creative energy and ideas “everywhere”, looking to nature for shape and form, and finding inspiration through clients, friends, family and colleagues. She defines great design as a home that fits the homeowners' unique needs and how they function in their everyday lives, showcasing their personal interests and providing a place of serenity. She loves spaces that provide an experience and complement the design of the entire home. A superbly designed and organized home can heighten feelings of bliss, comfort, love and inspiration for those who live there.

Courtney understands that excellent communication and organization are pivotal for a building project to run smoothly. Strong relationships with the homeowner and builder help tremendously.

Courtney's personal style is open and bright with a mixture of modern and rustic, inspired by Northwest Pacific, Scandinavian and Native American designs. Words she uses to describe Northern Michigan Style: “Serene, beauty, rustic, adventure and coastal.”

FUN FACT: When Courtney was 16, she had the opportunity to travel to Europe for three weeks as part of the People to People Student Ambassadors program.
